Maximum Compliance, Minimum Pain

Save hundreds of hours and make compliance a breeze with easy onboarding, advanced automation, and real-time reporting with the Centraleyes platform.

The Challenge:
Keeping Up with Compliance

With technology rapidly evolving and the growing complexity of the threat landscape, regulations and privacy laws are in constant flux. Keeping up with new data privacy legislation, information security regulations and various certifications creates a challenge and increases the risk of noncompliance penalties, legal exposure, personal liability, and operational and reputational damage.

Centraleyes helps companies solve some of their biggest pain points through purpose-built functionality, which includes:

- Understanding the practical implementation of framework requirements, defining and limiting their scope

- Providing one-click access to assess how compliant you are through an orchestrated and automated methodical assessment

- Enabling collaboration across teams to efficiently collect and organize evidence and artifacts for an audit

- Producing reports for auditors at the click of a button

- Automating control cross-walking across multiple compliance frameworks

- Giving management full visibility and control to oversee and track all ongoing processes

Modern compliance management requires a level of organization-wide alignment and agility that cannot be achieved through a spreadsheet or legacy GRC platform. It requires continuous, real-time monitoring, evaluation and remediation, to remain compliant in a dynamic atmosphere.

Adopt a modern, automated compliance orchestration platform that addresses your current needs and prepares you for the future. Scale-up with ease and expand to meet new compliance standards using cutting-edge integration and control cross-walking answer once and comply across multiple frameworks.
